Clemson A. & M. College of South Carolina

Foreword

If, in the days to come, you who have experienced the joys and sorrows of a cadet's life, grow retrospective, we present this volume as a living reminder of the days that have been spent at Clemson. If you, dear reader, may find some joyful thought in these pages, our task has been fulfilled.

"Think before you make a promise and then stick to it—a good character is rather to be chosen than great riches."

HORTICULTURE

Private; Corporal; Sergeant; Major. President Palmetto Literary Society; President Lancaster County Club, '26 Vice-President Fort Mill Club, '25; Secretary and Treasurer Lancaster County Club, '25; Secretary and Treasurer, Horticulture Society, '26; Business Manager Chronicle, '26; Agricultural Society; Friendship Council; R. O. T. C., Camp McClellan, Alabama.

"Alec" for three years, but now it is "Major". He achieved this position on his military merit after taking the whole military staff by storm and being on excellent terms with Captain Lee. These two have taken many a ride to Anderson for the purpose of seeing the fairer sex.

"Alec" is interested in horticulture, being one of "George Peter's" ardent followers. Some of these days we all expect him to own a large orchard from which he may clean up a million. He was always given most of the extra work in the Section, as was implied in these words: "Mr. Alexander, will you do . . . . ." He never shirked any of this work and we predict that all through life he will never mind the daily grind and will wind up as a great success. Go to it, "Alec," we are all with you. With the ability as a horticulturist, and that wonderful girl of yours, you can make oranges and peaches grow in the Arctic Regions.

Olin, better known by his admirers, both male and female, as "Hambone", or more intimately as just plain "Bone", achieved fame at Clemson just for his peculiarly accentuated speech and for his marvelous success with the "unfair" sex. "Bone's" manipulation of the ladies' hearts is not unlike Ponzi's manipulation of dollars.

He soon decided that the world was greatly in need of a good mechanical engineer. One might think that Anderson, being an ardent disciple of a certain movie actor whose name reminds one of the most useful of petroleum by-products, is not a good student. This, however, is not the case. His record as a student has not been phenomenal, but he, like the rest of us, has waded through four years of classes and now must start his life as a graduate.

It is impossible for anyone to believe that anything but success shall be Anderson's lot.

DAIRYING

Private; Corporal; Sergeant; First Lieutenant; Senior Private. President Laurens County Club; Secretary and Treasurer Laurens County Club; Member Dairy Club; Basketball Squad, '25, '26; Member Clean Sleeve Club; Camp Track Team; R.O.T.C., Camp McClellan, Ala.

Thomas Lafayette Walker Bailey, Jr. came to us from the metropolis of Clinton. "Tilly" as he is better known, was quite a handsome rat and since that time has become a campus shiek. He has more girls in love with him than Rudolph Valentino(?). He is a disciple of "Big Ben." During his last year at school, "Tilly" roomed with "Bill" Lippincott and this has given him an even greater reputation with the ladies. The ties that these boys wear are more than enough to win any girl's heart. Although "Tilly" has not led his class as a student, his record is one of which he should be proud. After all, one's class record is only a small part of one's success. He has always been active in the various branches of student activities. He seems to realize that a college course means a course in the art of living with one's fellow-men. "Tilly" is a natural-born gentleman and if his success in after life comes to him as easily as it has come here, there can be no obstacle too great for him to overcome.

If you were to meet this lad on the street you would probably think him a preacher, but he is not. His deceptive looks have earned for him the title of "Rev.", of which he is worthy in every respect.

"Rev.", came to Clemson in the fall of '22 and has been a consistent worker in the Civil Engineering Department since. Clemson should be proud of such a student as this lad because he is a conscientious worker and a friend to everybody.

Barr is not only a conscientious worker but also a skilled writer to the "flavored" ones at . . . . . well, guess. We sincerely hope he will be as successful in winning friends among the ladies after he leaves Clemson as he has been among the boys at school.

May the best in life be yours, old pal.

TEXTILE ENGINEERING

Private; Corporal; Sergeant; Senior Private. Calhoun Literary Society Junior Literary Critic, '23, Recording Secretary, '23, Vice-President, '26, President, '26; Assistant Baseball Manager; Joke Editor "Chronicle," '24; President, Secretary and Treasurer Greenville City Club; Vice-President Textile Society; Senior Private's Club; Sophomore, Junior, and Senior Dancing Clubs; R.O.T.C., Camp McClellan, Ala.

Johnny came over from the Textile Center in 1922 and started working. He left school a short while in his Senior year, but he returned again this session and is gradually resuming his former efficiency. He possesses great oratorical ability, and is recognized as an efficient executive. He delves fruitfully into social life and is a great participant in athletics, although he has not won the much desired block letter.

Always smiling and good natured, he forms many friendships, yet he always leaves an impression of dignity and ability that is never too deeply overshadowed by his jollity. He proceeds through life like a pedestrian in a crowded thoroughfare. Turning here, stopping only to secure a stronger start, he always holds to a definite course which cannot help but lead to success and happiness. Some of his classmates may achieve greater financial success, some may hold more glory, but the joy and peace that go with a well-lived life will be Johnny's reward.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

Private; Corporal; Sergeant; Senior Private. Member Darlington County Club; A.S.M.E.; Clean Sleeve Club; R.O.T.C., Camp McClellan, Ala.

This lad hails from the city of Darlington. He came to Tigertown in the fall of '22 with the sole intention of mastering his chief and foremost aim of life, mechanical engineering, and so far has proved successful in every attempt.

Raymond is a true friend, a loyal Tiger, and a man who is always ready to help anyone who may be in need. He was never known to give up a task until satisfied that he had done his best.

The fairer sex has never, as yet, worried Raymond very much; but there is one in Darlington who wishes him all success in life. His belief is that before and after conquering life's work that the rest will come easy.

Luck is to you, Roseman. May your joys be as big as the ocean and your sorrows as light as the foam.

CIVIL ENGINEERING

Private; Private; Private; Senior Private. Secretary and Treasurer Saluda County Club; Secretary and Treasurer Twin City Club; Member Wade Hampton Literary Society; Friendship Council; Member A.S.C.E.; Rifle Marksman R.O.T.C., Camp McClellan, Ala.

This young man who is commonly called "Boukday" by his fellow students, came to Clemson from Batesburg in the fall of '22 to prepare for a great agriculturist; but he soon changed his course to Civil Engineering. From all present indications, "Boukday" will make a great success as a Civil. He has made good in his classes by his ability to stick to a thing until it is finished. He is a man of good character, with but few bad habits and with many good ones.

Due to his pleasing disposition and good character, "Boukday" has made many friends during his sojourn at Clemson. He has also won one little heart at G. W. C.

We all unite as one in the hope that he may have God-speed in his climb to the peak of success.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING

Julian first gained renown at Clemson by his athletic ability, but this was only an introductory paragraph to his volume of life here. A titan of strength, he has learned to control such force and convert it into useful, efficient work. He has the admirable quality to stick to a thing and carry it through, regardless of the circumstances or facts. His cheery mein is an inspiration to his comrades. Work never daunts him, and his willingness to perform his duty to assist his friends in any unselfish endeavor makes him popular with his smaller and less gifted friends. He is the recipient of much rightly placed confidence, and his square dealings with his fellow students have placed him in exacting positions of responsibility.

Private; Corporal; Sergeant; Second Lieutenant. Member Glee Club, '25, '26; Member College Quartet, '25, '26; Member Baptist Choir; Member Textile Society; Member Florence County Club, '23; Member Laurens County Club; Vice-President Laurens County Club.

Yes, folks, here is "King Arthur!" The lad with the sweet line and golden voice that we love so well. Immediately upon his arrival here four years ago he became endowed with the Clemson spirit, and since that time he has been a loyal and devoted Tiger.

Arthur decided to take the "Bobbin-dodging" course and expose himself to helping handle the textile world. Not only is Arthur a good student, but a good singer as well. He has been one of the mainstays on the Glee Club. The little birds cease their singing and the little owlets cease their hooting when Arthur begins singing.

Arthur is the possessor of a bright personality, having all the capabilities that go to make a real gentleman and a true friend.

Here's to you, Arthur. May the best be yours and may she help you to build a castle of happiness in a sunny nook.

CHEMICAL ENGINEERING

Private; Private; Sergeant; First Lieutenant. Rat Football; Varsity Football, '24, '25; Member Block "C" Club; Chemical Society; President Chemical Society; Vice-President Richland County Club; Member Capital City Club; R.O.T. C., Camp McClellan, Ala.; Member Senior Dancing Club.

"Prep," as he is known, hails from Columbia, "The City Unlimited." As a student Prep is not flashy, or exceedingly notorious, but he is a steady consistent worker. He is a fellow of whom we are all proud and one who always comes out on top. Prep has made for himself a warm place in the hearts of both the students and professors by his sterling character and genial disposition. His joking ways, his sarcastic manner, and seeming indifference, is well understood by all who know him and to know Prep is to know Clemson.

It can be truly said that Prep is a sport, an athlete, and a gentleman of the highest order. We are looking to you, Prep, we know that you have the goods.

Yes, this is Hugh, the man with such an open countenance. He is a man of high ideals and possesses a strong character. Hugh also has a wonderful attraction for the members of the fairer sex, among whom he has made many friends. He has a smile for everyone, and never fails to help the fellow who calls upon him for aid. Hugh came to Clemson to make good, and he has certainly done that. He was among the six highest rating students in the class during his Freshman year; and he has lived to that good record since that time.

When we began our Junior year, Hugh cast his lot with the followers of "Sookie." We believe that he will make a wonderful professor and a leader of men. When he leaves us we shall certainly miss him.

Hugh, we are looking to you to keep up the good work that you have started, and hope that you will have a long and successful life.

Dignity is an asset to those capable of handling it in a manner that is fitting to all occasions; and even though "Baldhead" is six feet five inches in height, he has never lowered himself in passing under the gateways of life. Perhaps the outstanding feature in this lad's accomplishments at Clemson has been his work in the publication of our weekly paper, "The Tiger." "Baldhead" is an excellent journalist, and by his diligence and faithfulness, he has made his paper one of the best college publications in the South. As, perhaps, future editor of some well-known daily, we can only wish him the success and happiness he deserves.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING

Private, Corporal; Sergeant; First Lieutenant. Vice-President Orangeburg County Club; Member A.I.E.E.; Jail Birds Club; First Class Machine Gunner, R.O.T.C., Camp McClellan, Ala.

Clemson's stock ran high in the fall of '22 when the town of North paid her debt to the State Institution. Hubert began his college career by taking Chemistry, but finding it very lonesome, he changed his course to Electricity.

To know Hubert is to be acquainted with a good fellow and a true gentleman. A big heart, a generous disposition, and an eagerness to help his friends have won for him a host of friends while at Clemson. It would take several to express the esteem which we hold for Hubert. He is one of our most popular members, and the Class of '26 would be incomplete without him.

Byrd has never claimed to be a ladies' man, but his frequent visits to the P. O. show that there is a certain young lady who is anxious for June to come. So here's wishing you success, Hubert, and may you some day electrify a cozy cabin for your own personal use.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

Private; Private; Sergeant; Senior Private. Member A.S.M.E.; Member Palmetto Literary Society; Member Union County Club; Correspondence Club; R.O.T.C., Camp McClellan, Ala.

Just a few years ago Calvert was induced, after much persuasion, to board the "Tigertown Limited."

Julian set his heart to be a Steinmetz; and he found it easy to see the oscillatory, vibratory, and rotary motion of the powerful molecules which so cheerfully pushed the throb of the mighty motors at the touch of his hand.

In his life's study, and its associated student organizations, he has been satisfied with nothing but the highest and best. We find Calvert making excellent marks on his grades and excelling also in the Palmetto Literary Society. His excellent talent has meant much for this society.

Calvert has a sterling character and has in every respect lent it to clean sportsmanships. We are proud to claim this loyal Tiger as our true friend and he has won a place in our hearts that shall not be forgotten.

We know that he will succeed in his life's work—including the M. R. S. degree.

ERNEST WILLAUGHBY CARPENTER

Assistant Business Manager "Taps"; Associate Athletic Editor "The Tiger"; Resigned Athletic Editor, '26; Junior Class Historian; Manager Concert Orchestra, '26; Textile Society; International Relations Club; Vice-President Junior Dancing Club; Senior Dancing Club; President Greenville City Club; Clean Sleeve Club; Exchange Editor "The Chronicle"; Band two years.

To know Ern is to know that which, in the code of all his friends and associates, exemplifies a gentleman. Always courteous, friendly, and refined, he has established a reputation here as one who stands for those things which all the world admires; but not alone on this trait does his character depend. Ern is an earnest student, with more than the usual intelligence; a lover of all social life, gifted with the graces necessary; a lover of physical activities, with a well-developed body. During his stay at Clemson, he has entered wholeheartedly into all the various forms of student activities. He has contributed largely to all the various college publications and has distinguished himself with literary endeavors.

It will be needless to predict for Ern a success in his future life, as all who know him know his capacities.

RALPH HENRY CAIN

Sharon, S. C.

Honesty, hard work, and fair play: these shall be the rules and guide of my life in all its phases.

AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION

Private; Corporal; Sergeant. President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer, and Chaplain, Palmetto Literary Society; Declaimers Medal, Palmetto '25; York County Club; Masonic Fraternity; Bible Class Teacher '25, '26; Assistant Sunday School Teacher '25.

Cain came to Clemson in the fall of '14 to begin his college career, but after a year he was forced to discontinue his work on account of several things. During the War he served in the army, and from what we know of him now, he made one of the finest type "doughboys." This training has helped "R. H.," for when he came back to Clemson in '24 and took part in the annual inspection by the War Department, the inspecting officer acclaimed him the "cleanest and neatest dressed man in the regiment." We might attribute this to Cain's better half, for he is a married man, but we know him too well to think he would need advice on such a matter.

In Cain is embodied those traits which make a real man, and in his life there can be found no exception to the fair play, honesty, and hard work which he has chosen for the ruling lights of his life. There can be nothing but success for such a man, and we can only wish for him a life filled with the happiness of serving.

In the fall of '22 the "City of Success" gave to us one "Jimmie" Carson. Besides making excellent grades during his four years at Clemson, he has won the esteem and friendship of everyone with whom he has come in contact. Jimmy is known for his sincerity, honesty, sound judgement, and gentlemanly manners. We are sure that these qualities will win for him a high place among men. Jimmy's favorite past-time is dancing, and no Hop would have been complete without Jimmy and his girl.

During his last year in Clemson, Jimmy decided to join the ranks of the Bugle Corps and from the early hours of the morning until the late hours of night, one could hear the melodious notes of his bugle as it floated from Room 121.

Jimmy is considered by all who know him as one of the neatest and most precise boys at Clemson. Whether at work or at play, these qualities are always foremost.

TEXTILE ENGINEERING

Private; Private; Sergeant; Senior Private. Member Textile Society; Lamrens County Club; Secretary and Treasurer Lamrens County Club; Jail Bird Club; Clean Sleeve Club; R.O.T.C., Camp McClellan, Ala.; Block "C" Club.

To know David is to admire him. He who counts this man his friend is indeed fortunate, for no truer friend could be desired. His calm, serene personality has quite often been broken with well-said words of wit, intelligence, and frankness. These qualities have won for him many friends at Clemson.

David is at all times an ardent supporter of college activities. After playing baseball with the scrubs for two years, the third year he attained his goal, a block "C".

In his studies he is an earnest worker and always willing to do his part. With his determination and desire to succeed, we predict for him a great success in the work he pursues.

Here's to you, David, may you have the best that the world affords.

Press Association; President A. S.C.E.; Newspaper Correspondence Club; Member Glee Club; R.O.T.C., Plattsburg Barracks, N. Y.; "Big Chief" Red Heads Club.

Here, Gentle Reader, we present "Red" Caughman, the man of many sides, of many honors, and of many love affairs.

Right well has Red upheld the honor of a family rich in the Clemson tradition. His brainy head and engineering skill, as demonstrated in the classrooms of Clemson and the Highway Department of South Carolina, assure his professional success. His financial wizardry, as demonstrated in the handling of the business of the "Tiger" has kept him broke a smaller portion of the time than is the average Clemson boy. His grace as a follower of Terpsichore has won him fame in the ball-room. And girls from the icy, crystal waters of Lake Champlain to the muddy Seneca have raved about his hair and beautiful eyes.

Some of the above, Kind Reader, is true; some is most unmitigated misstatement. But Red is Red, and Clemson proudly claims him as her own.

"Big Bill," as we all know him, needs no introduction to us or to the ladies of Anderson College. He came to us from Denver, not in Colorado, but South Carolina, to study architecture. It seems as if Bill is making a place for himself, not only in Clemson Architecture, but of the world. He has already won a prize with one of his drawings, competing with about six hundred architects of high repute. Keep it up, old boy, we are all behind you. Bill with all his talents is a likeable chap; honest and respected by all who know him.

Here's wishing you good luck!

In the fall of '21 Charlie came to Clemson from the prep school where he had been holding his own as ranking cadet officer in the military department, and here has prepared himself to conquer new worlds through his military ability. Since coming to Clemson, Charlie's fame grew and he soon acquired the name of being the most military man in the regiment. After three years he had to drop out of college, and when he returned all of his old classmates had left. This intermission was very unfortunate, for if he had gone on in his class there is little doubt but that he should have attained the highest ranking military office among the cadets.

We are proud to have known him for he is a typical gentleman, and in addition is a man who possesses great personal qualities for friendship. Here's hoping that the future will hold nothing but success for you, C. N., for you have our heartiest wishes in anything that you may undertake.

Henry Coleman, rare combination of energy, wit, business ability, and "affairs de colir," may be briefly characterized in the following terms: scholar, gentleman, good fellow, and a true friend.

Henry possesses the rare quality of being perfectly at home wherever he may be, and, like the proverbial Pullman porter, he has a girl in every town.

Here's to you, Henry. We wish you all the success in the world. Impress the world as you have impressed us and you will have achieved success.

Yes, this is "Squirrel," and an honorary member of "Specks" Smith's wind-jammers. He blew into Clemson four years ago from the Electric City for the purpose of becoming saturated with the knowledge of electricity, and since that time has been a permanent chaser of the electron. "Squirrel" is a most loyal Tiger. He has not flourished as a military genius nor as an athlete, but he is never missing when the Tigers go into action. Sincerity, good will, and cheerfulness are the things that characterize this lad. This boy is always willing to lend a helping hand to those who need it and his many friends wish him a life of success in this world of trials and temptations.

Alvin, better known as "Puss," came to us from the very heart of the Gamecock's roost, but under the prevalence of the soph's brooms and the Tiger spirit, which dominates all the Piedmont region, he soon became a true Tiger. Puss numbers his friends by his acquaintances. His friendship not only includes all of the people of the campus, but extends to all the neighboring towns. He seldom fails to visit Anderson on the week-ends, and has not failed to impress the fairer sex of the Electric City. There is also a more serious side to "Puss" than girls and dancing at which he is an expert, namely, his work. He is an aspiring Electrical Engineer, and some day we expect him to put Steinmetz in the back-ground.

The prime constituent of McGarvey's nature is the ability to concentrate and analyze. He absorbs the intricate deviousness of electricity with ease where other hard-working students are baffled. Humor, sageness, and pleasure are the leading instruments in his life symphony that is devoid of discords. He accepts the most appealing parts of life and rejects the rest without a tremor of hesitation. His genius is inventive, and should lead him to realms of renown and to the foremost ranks of those who have contributed to man's comfort on this terrestrial ball.

In the fall of '22, Unuck came to Clemson to prepare himself to make a living for two. During his first week at Clemson he drew so many old boys around his room with brooms that he decided to cast his lot with the "drawers." After four years of training, Unuck can draw anything from flies to the most stately of mansions.

We, the Class of '26, wish you the best in life. Your ability as a worker and as a peacemaker will carry you far on your road to success.

Here's to you, Enoch, you have never gone back on a friend.

Out of the little town of Swansea came "Inspiration" for the class of '26. Newt, as he is known by his friends and college mates, has been throughout his college career an earnest and faithful worker, and stands high in the scholastic world. Newt has made many friends at the various female colleges over the state, as well as at Clemson.

So eager was he to secure the fundamental principles of wisdom that no time was lost either in his room or in his classrooms.

With his winning smiles and unique expressions he left the Education Section full of pep and laughter as they travelled to and from Seneca on the "Tsukiyama Special." A man's college career without a doubt has been a success when he has proved himself a friend, a scholar, and a gentleman.

Here's to you, Newt; peace, success, and happiness. The class of '26 will always cherish your memory.

TEXTILE INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION

Private; Private; Private; Second Lieutenant. Anderson County Club; Textile Society; Member Junior and Senior Dancing Clubs; R.O.T.C., Camp McClellan, Ala.

To his many friends he is affectionately known as Jim. This young man who hails from the metropolis called Sandy Springs, has for the past four years been winning the admiration and friendship of his fellow classmates.

Jim is the type of man that makes friends. Although he has never suffered from nervous prostration due to overstudy, he has put forth his untiring efforts toward his objective—a diploma—and right well has he succeeded. Jim has one weakness, and that is for Anderson and "Her." Anyway, each week-end finds Jim in the nearby city, and the balmy atmosphere around this city seems to have a soothing effect upon his heart trouble. His pleasing personality has won for him a host of friends who desire him to succeed in all that he undertakes.

Private; Private; Private; First Lieutenant. Member A.I.E.E.; President Sumter County Club, '26; Secretary and Treasurer Sumter County Club, '24; R.O.T.C., Camp McClellan, Ala.

Girls beware! "Sonny" is not so innocent as he looks. This lad has two hobbies: one is girls and the other is electricity. He came to Clemson in '22 from the Gamecock City to study Electricity, but in his four years he has learned almost as much about the power of the other sex as he has about electricity. Sonny, since becoming one of "Crip's" disciples, has learned a great deal about electricity—he can screw a light bulb into a socket every time.

James is a very ambitious student. His ideals have been of the very highest. He is a gentleman at all times. We predict for him a very successful future. May he some day achieve his ambitions, and may all of his trouble be small ones.

"Midnight," as we know him, came to us in the fall of '22, from Trenton. He left home to light up the world and he has proved his ability by mastering electricity. Charlie has shown himself a true friend to all who know him. He is not one of these loud and boisterous fellows, but on the contrary one who moves onward by his ever diligent work. His work in athletics has not been spectacular, but steady.

Charlie's one great weakness is the fairer sex; whether he gets results or not we do not know, but something causes him to be absent from college every week-end.

"Military" is Day's middle name. Not only has he been a leader in this branch in his college career, but as a soldier he can be counted on always to do his duty. The Class of '26 wishes to him great success in his future undertakings, and that he will make good is a matter of no speculation.

Private; Private; Sergeant; Lieutenant-Colonel. Agricultural Society; Vice-President Ommatidae Society; R.O.T.C., Camp McClellan, Ala.

"Doug" began his career with the class of '25; but letting his conscience be his guide he left us for a year. In '24 he returned to us, hoping to make Clemson "The West Point on the Seneca."

Douglass, after a careful consideration, has cast his lot with the Military Department. Although the Army is his chief objective, he does excellent work in all of his classes. He always leaves his mark of good workmanship behind him. Whatever it may be, when he has something to do, he is about it. Yet he takes time out to remember the fairer sex at Winthrop.

Doug, we hate to see you leave Clemson, and the sophomores will certainly miss you next year. Yet as you go away, the eyes of Clemson will be watching you for your success on your life work.

By continuing to be square, Doug, you cannot help but rise.

Y.

Winnsboro, a stronghold of Clemson loyalty, is known by the class of '26 as the thriving town from which Bill Elliot came to Clemson. Bill is one of those quiet boys who do not blantly force themselves upon ones attention, or other activities, but who diligently do their part, be it in the class-room, athletics, or what not, meanwhile making a host of friends. He has been an all-round college man. He was a faithful worker on the track and a tireless supporter of all branches of athletics. He has rendered invaluable service also as a contributor to the several publications of school. Bill's unflinching loyalty to high principles has made him a leader.

The Class of '26 will long cherish the memory of this noble member.

AGRONOMY

Private; Private; Private; First Lieutenant. Agricultural Society; Ommatidae Society; Member Newberry County Club; Member Friendship Council; Bible Class Leader, '25; Rifle Marksman, R.O.T.C., Camp McClellan, Ala.

Epting was first a member of the class which welcomed us so warmly when we were rats. The class of '26 is very fortunate in having him join them. He was not very widely known when he appeared in Tigertown for his second scholastic campaign. Since then, however, he has won many true friends with his pleasing personality.

In barracks Claude's favorite pass-time is delving into books on the subject of agriculture. In his classes he works hard and consistently and is among the best men in his section. He is a follower of Lord (Collins, Ph.D.) and is determined to show the people of his community what he can do. "Ep" is majoring in Agronomy, but he has a little sideline at Anderson that may capture him. He has a great resisting power, but a smile from his little girl may cause him to lay aside his stern voice and go "dear" hunting.

Here's the best of luck to you, Epting, in whatever you may wish to undertake.

'Tis true that Ramsey had to put clods in his shoes to feel at home, but how could we expect better when we consider the fact that he came from the "Cracker State."

He decided to "cast his die" with the "test tube washers," and since then he has been trying to find the unknown.

Not only does Ramsey excel in his class work, but he has also achieved much in the musical realms of Tigertown. He "blowed" his way through the military department, ending as Band Captain. Besides this he has been a mainstay in both the Concert Orchestra and with the "Jungaleers." Ramsey not only spent his time tooting, for he was also one of our second "baseman" of the Glee Club.

Ramsey is a cadet, a true Tiger, a real friend, and a gentleman.

Remember, old boy, we are looking at you and are expecting nothing but the best from you, so luck to you!

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

Private; Corporal; Sergeant; Second Lieutenant. Member Beaufort County Club; Member A.I.E.E., '25; Member A.S.M.E.

From Beaufort in the heart of the almost tropical lowlands, fair-haired "Jim" journeyed to Clemson in the late summer of 1922, thoroughly determined to master the elusive subject of Mechanical Engineering.

This youth is a good student. He pursues his work with vigor and takes pride in solving difficult problems. It is seldom that we find such a combination of good qualities as Jim possesses, molded in the personality of one individual. He is a sincere friend, a lover of work and fun, a practical idealist, a respecter of himself and others, a good mixer, and a likeable chap.

Possessing, as he does, so many rare good qualities, we predict for Jim a bright and sunny future. May you always be the same ole Jim, ever sparkling on the road to success.

Luck to you, Jim, a true friend, a loyal Tiger, and a devoted pal.

Special Student

Ezell came to Clemson in the fall of '21 from the "city" of Cross Anchor, and here for the past few years he has been busy acquiring that elusive thing called higher learning. Due to unforeseen circumstances, however, P. B. was forced to drop out of the running for awhile and is, consequently, finishing with the Class of '26.

During the war P. B. served his country over-seas; now he is going to serve at home by teaching. Surely there is no finer task a man can turn his hand to than the training of the youth of the world, and it is in this great calling that Ezell has enlisted.

Here's luck to you, Ezell; may life give you all that you so richly deserve in return for the unselfish attitude that you have towards it.

"Bill" is consistently a hard worker for the things he believes to be worth while. That is why the class of '26 made him president on its last important lap of college.

Soon after he entered Clemson, "Bud" helped to organize a bachelor's club. Did he remain in it? Not by a long shot, as the postmaster will tell you.

Bud, as you mosh through the icy fields of the trackless Arctic, hold still a warm place in your heart for the old class of '26, which after four years of association with you, has grown to know and admire you.

"Jack," for thus he is known to everyone, has by his manliness won the admiration and respect of all his classmates. This lad hails from Rock Hill; and Rock Hill's loss was Clemson's gain. He is endowed with an attractive personality, and he has the ability to think and act for himself.

Jack has taken part in many of the college activities, but his performances on the gridiron have been the means of earning for him the plaudits of all true Tigers. If he tackles the obstacles in his way to success as the tackled his opponents on the football field, he is sure to mount to the top in his chosen profession. He is determined to become one of the bright and shining lights of the Textile world, and he carries with him the best wishes of his many friends for his future success.

Soon after "Fink," as the big-hearted lad is affectionately known, came to Clemson he won our love and respect with his individuality, sincerity, and fineness of purpose. From the beginning of his pre-school days and on through college he has been recognized as a boy with great determination, and as one who has always stood up for what he thought best.

Fink has won love and respect in all departments, and "Crip" can truly boast that he is one man who is worthy to serve as a model for all others, as the class of '06 is to us.

Besides being a good student, Fink is a star in track and in football. He is undaunted by superior opposition and as captain of the football team, his indomitable courage and inspiring personality were assets of great value.

The Class of '26 wishes you the greatest success which can be won in this world.

Imagine a room in barracks—ten or twelve men gathered in one of the famous "sessions"—conversation flowing freely—and you have "Mammoth's" paradise.

He has done his stuff for four years on the gridiron, playing the guard position like a veteran.

He has made scores of friends who swear by him, and fortunate indeed is the man who can call him friend, for here he has one who will stick by him through thick and thin and never reckon the consequences. What other qualifications needs any man than these?

To meet him is to like him... to know him is to love him. "Rem" has a heart that is big and true, a smile that would never wear off, and is a friend to both the boys and the ladies. He is a gentleman, an earnest scholar, a true friend, an exponent of the higher things of life, and the possessor of a winning personality.

Rem, realizing that there was great need for educated men in South Carolina, decided to follow the worthy example of his older brother. In the fall of '22 he entrusted his potentially great intellect to the "Wise Heads" of C. A. C., in the hope that they would mold it into a resourceful thinking anatomy. It can be readily seen now that the profs have been very successful.

Rem has taken an active part in the literary societies, the Y. M. C. A., and religious work in general throughout his college career. He is noted for his humorous and witty sayings, his friendly disposition, and his cheerful smile, all of which have made for him a host of true friends.

President Concert Orchestra two terms; Business Manager Band; Senior Literary Editor of "The Chronicle"; Operator College Broadcasting Station three years; Member Y.M.C.A. Cabinet; Member Cadet Band four years; Expert Machine Gunner, R.O.T.C., Camp McClellan, Ala.

This versatile lad hails from the town that bears his name. Since joining the Tiger Clan, Gaffney has shown that he is a hard worker, a sincere friend, and a real Tiger.

Harris, or "Doc," as we affectionally know him, joined the "electron seekers" and his interest in electricity can be shown by his efficient service in helping to establish a broadcasting station at Clemson.

As literary editor of "The Chronicle," Doc deserves much credit. Largely through his efforts "The Chronicle" has been placed among the best of college publications. As one of the premier members of the cadet band and concert orchestra, he has helped promote better music at Clemson.

We fear not for Doc, for we realize that a man of his ability, determination, and high ideals will make a success.

Charley came to Tigertown in the fall of '23, and due to his superior intellectual ability, he will be ready to depart from the Tiger Lair with the Class of '26.

As a student Charley studies hard and makes good grades; as a friend he is always willing to lend a helping hand and is loved by all who know him; as a musician he is of the very best and the Clemson band will deeply regret his leaving; as a gentleman he is second to none.

He is strictly a ladies' man. His one great failing is girls; but his wonderful "shickish line," especially when on Glee Club trips, has made his failing a great success. Many of the fair damsels from the surrounding colleges have imagined that they reign supreme in Charley's heart.

Genial, good-natured, always with a smile for every one, he is just the type of man to succeed in whatever he undertakes.

Charley, we wish you much success in life, the highest school of learning.

It is inconceivable just how many friends this loyal Tiger possesses. They can easily be accounted for, however, by his charming personality and real true friendship. Norman is the type of gentleman that we just like and respect.

Promptness, neatness, perseverance, and natural ability which have, incidentally, warranted his military achievements, are his dominant characteristics. We can only predict that these qualities will also help him in winning the hand of one worthy of him.

Norman's ability and determination will win for him a place in the Electrical world paralleled only by those of great fame. We can only hope that the leaders of this profession will recognize his sterling qualities as did his instructors at Clemson.

Reserve and dignity characterize every step that "Gee" has made at Clemson. Versed in all the wiles of social life, abundantly supplied with liberal knowledge, and gifted with a mind that has never found a problem too profound to solve, he has filled countless positions of responsibility and capability. Never overbearing or presumptive, but always calm and impressive, Gee rightly suggests tremendous reserve power of personality and ability. His talents are wide-spread, but his greatest achievements here have been in scholastic life, and in a managerial capacity among student organizations. He has piloted this 1926 "Taps" to a grand finish, and he has successfully guided our best social functions for well-deserved success.

The best study of mankind is man. Here is a real study of mankind in the person of Frederic Swain Gilmer. An ounce of wit and a single smile are worth a pound of sorrow, and in Fred may be seen a daily practice of this old proverb. Ever lighthearted, ever hopeful, having always an irresistible smile for everyone, he continually chases gloom.

Possessed of inherent grace and ease of manner, Fred is at ease with whatever class of society he may be thrown, whether it be in the ball-room or in the cabin. Perhaps one of his best attainments is his power to divine human character; and his opinions, formed not hastily, are to be treated with utmost respect for their unerring accuracy and truth. Strong of initiative, of him may well be said: He dares to do, for he who dares not is lost.

If natural ability, together with the better qualities which go to make a real man, be any measure of success, Fred shall indeed attain the unattainable.

Yes, here he is, the fellow that all Iva has watched for the last four years with pride.

Frank came to Clemson with two strong determinations: to get his diploma, and to put Iva on the map. He has fulfilled his first wish and nothing but time can keep him from carrying out his second.

For three years Frank has been busy working problems in electricity about magnetism and resistances. For the last year he has been busy with a problem about magnetism and resistance—but of a different nature. It is whispered that this problem refers to a certain young lady at Winthrop whose magnetism he thinks will help him put away all resistance he meets in after life.

Iva, we are returning to you a man, graduated in Mechanical Engineering, in return for a boy that you sent to us four years ago. His success we assure you.

Physically, a man; morally, a gentleman; at heart, a true Tiger. "Kit" came to us as a distinguished member of the population of Fort Motte in the fall of '22 with the aspiration to become the leading horticulturist with Clemson. After he had become acquainted with Clemson and was properly imbued with the Tiger spirit, he decided to join the ranks of those who uphold the Purple and Gold on the gridiron. Since he made this decision, Kit has inhaled the Hurricanes, torn the Blue Hoisery, plucked Gamecock feathers, and pulled Bulldog tails. In the field of this activity, he has always fought like a real Tiger.

This lad is an ardent admirer of the fair ones and we predict that in the near future some sweet girl will also be a lucky one. Kit, a boy with a keen intellect, a striking personality, and a strong character, is the sure bet to add to his name the glory that a successful Clemson man is sure to gain.

Behold! A man, and every inch of him is just that. Since coming to Clemson, Whit has proved to us that because of his ability, he is just as much at ease in the classroom, on the dance floor, on the campus, or anywhere else he might be thrown, as he would be in his own home.

Seldom do we find a man with such a blending of these characteristics. His personality is a wonderful combination of the factors mentioned before, and this alone has endeared Whit in the hearts of us all.

In Whit we expect to see the development of a second Burbank. With years of experience and a Clemson diploma as his backing, nothing short of death itself can hinder his accomplishments in the horticultural field.

Watch him; it will be well worth your attention.

He not only is popular at Clemson, but he is also greatly loved and admired over at Lander and at G. W. C.

We feel sure that he will prove to be the Edison of Horry County, and we predict for him a successful future. The very fact that he was elected president of his county club without a dissenting vote proves the esteem and love with which he is regarded by his fellow students.

Here, folks, is none other than H. Lloyd Hawkins, and never shall we see his like again. Henery became tired of "watching Sedalia grow," so he came to Clemson in search of knowledge. Sedalia is not through growing, but judging from his flow of sesquipedalian words, the search is over.

"Big Head," as he is commonly known, is a loyal Tiger, a true friend, and a gentleman. He is a very efficient scholar, and is an ardent supporter of student activities.

Early in his college career Henery elected Entomology for his life's work, and the elements that have prompted him to the place he holds in the hearts of his friends will surely push him up to the last rung in the ladder of success.

"Big Head" is the very reason why girls leave home. From the way he talks, we judge that his heart-smashing tactics are over, and that he is ready to settle down with the choice of his heart. Luck to you!

Jack came to Clemson with the sole idea of making a chemist of himself; and we may truthfully say that he has succeeded in building a foundation that is capable of withstanding the hard knocks of life. We feel sure that with the good disposition, the ability to make and to hold friends, and the determination to achieve the final goal, great success will follow whatever he may pursue.

The best of luck to you, Jack. The Class of '26 will always cherish your memory.

Harry is a friend to all who know him, and all know him. He is a favorite among the fair sex. A friend to all, honest of convictions, sincere of purpose, of high ideals, a jolly good fellow with a winning personality; this is Harry.

Men who know Harry best realize full well that a more genial friend cannot be found. And we expect him to be rewarded with the same degree of success in the world as he has attained in college.

Here's to you, Harry. May you, in producing more and better fruit, be endowed with the richest blessing and happiness.

Those who know "Bob" wish for no better friend. To say he is a prince of a good fellow would be putting it mild. His attracting personality, his ability to think for himself, and his judgement stamp him as a man loved and respected by all.

Bob came to Clemson from Rock Hill in the fall of '22 to add to his already large store of knowledge. During his four years at Clemson he has taken part in many and varied college activities. His classmates have affectionately dubbed him "Hopeless," which is probably not very erroneous, for we know that he is Hopelessly in love with a certain fair one at Winthrop.

If Bob makes as good teacher as he does a hot air artist, there will be no limit to his success.

On one bright September morning four years ago, there was great sorrowing in the little town of Richburg. Bob was leaving for Tigertown. Upon entering Clemson, he immediately cast his lot with the seekers of fame in the agricultural world. Here we find he has made a good record. In his Junior year he became an ardent disciple of "Sooky." In his class work he is excelled by no one, and if hard work and the ability to accomplish things count for anything in life, we are confident that he will be a success in his particular field.

During his four years among us, he has become a true Tiger, ever ready to help Clemson in any way he can. To know Bob is to know a true gentleman. His high ideals make him loved by all his acquaintances.

Although Bob is business-like, he never allows it to interfere with his pleasures. No matter how busy he may be, he has time to write to Lander College. We predict in the near future a cute little bun-galow for two.

As a member of the class of '26, Kearsse has proved himself worthy. Though never deeply affected with the desire for military fame, Daddy Trent burdened him with a lieutenancy, but this undeserved glory was removed from his shoulders by Colonel Cole, who reduced him to a private.

Kearsse is quite handsome and is the possessor of many winning ways. We find that the girls also fall for him. Believing himself quite competent, and realizing the possibility in the electrical field, he hung out his shingle in the Electrical Laboratory. Besides learning the nature of the molecule, he has learned to chase them along with other interesting things.

Though he may fail to continue his work in Electrical Engineering in after years, we all feel sure that his policy of doing the right thing by his fellow men will continue to stand him in good stead under all conditions and circumstances in life.

Hughie, throughout his college career has been an honest and faithful worker, and is worthy to be called a true Clemson Tiger. The people of St. George should lift their hats to this lad because he has not only been successful in the scholastic world, but his ideals are high and he is a man above par. "Woots," as he is known to us, is from the heart of Tigertown. Among the red heads, no more jolly fellow can be found than this sorrel-topped Irishman. After entering Clemson in '22, he became disgusted and decided that a tour of the East should be made before retiring and absorbing an education. He found after completing his tour that there was no place more suited to a true Tiger than in his own lair, and he returned to us and began to work with extra vigor and enthusiasm.

"Woots" shows what a real man can do; he forgot that he lost three months of valuable time, caught up with his original class and graduated with honors. Clem-

the memory of the boy with the cheerful disposition will long be cherished by the Class of '26 as one of its most loyal

Possessed of a disposition that is ad-

his witticisms, has been the life of the party during his four years sojourn in Tigertown.
His smile and his ability to look on the bright side of the seemingly dark spots in life has consoled those who often drift into a solemn, semi-pessimistic state of mind.

However, Jack has not allowed his fun-loving disposition to hinder his progress in life, and since coming to Clemson he has passed through the stages of development with a success which is a matter of pride to all his many friends. Unless some unforeseen obstacle, such as a beautiful young lady, arises to block the advance of Jack, we fail to visualize a defeat for this smiling lad in the battle for success.

Fred is the lad who keeps Tigertown roaring. No doubt you have heard of him before, either as an athlete, a comedian, songster, or student. In fact there are few things that Fred can't do. Because of his unusual ability and clever personality, Fred holds a dominant place in the hearts of his classmates. Fred is a real fighting Tiger. He proved this conclusively this year when he remained out for football the entire season with a badly injured knee.

His voice of husky sweetness, together with his ability to shoot a line has been to his advantage in entertaining the fair sex.

Whether Fred will follow Chemistry or go on the stage, we do know; however we do know that he is certain to succeed in whatever he chooses.

Junius Mayes Lemmon, better known under the cognomen of "Physicue," is the one absolutely unique character in the Class of '26. Troubles may pile up, everything may go dead against him, the silver may disappear from the clouds, but "Physicue" just smiles through it all. One thing, however, must be admitted; he is not perfect. Better than that he is unfailingly human, and it is this trait which has hoisted him to the positions of responsibility which he has held among his classmates.

Some people are so great that they forget their companions; others are so low that they forget everything but pleasure; "Physicue" strikes the happy medium. He is perpetually happy, and if happiness is success, this lad who has tasted deeply of all the activities which a course at Clemson affords, is well on his way to a ripe, well rewarded career.

"Whang," (meaning emperor in Chinese) is a familiar figure on the campus, being especially noted for his achievements in tennis and ping-pong. Every where he makes friends, for he is a jolly, fun-loving friend to everyone, and his ready laugh and numerous witticisms have made him as well liked as he is well known. One trait of his must be mentioned; he is tremendously girl-shy.

His nick-name, "Whang," is appropriate for with his natural ability plus his ability to work, we predict that he will rise to great heights in his chosen field.

Here's to you, Ko-Chia, we who have known you shall not like to see you part, but when we do part our best wishes for your success go with you.

Long was forced to withdraw from his class, but when the fall of '25 rolled around, he was back again. He is a congenial companion, a true friend, a loyal Tiger, an able student, and, above all, an honorable gentleman.

He isn't what we call a sheik, but occasionally he steps out among the ladies, thus demonstrating what his shieking qualities might be.

Mac's scholastic record shows that he has a chosen field and that he has chosen a course in which he is deeply interested. He is not only a good student, but also a strong supporter of all Tiger teams.

Yes, Mac is a gentleman, a true friend and a true Tiger; and we do not hesitate to say that the same traits that have raised him in the hearts of his friends will surely place him on the top rung of the ladder of success.

Look, friends, here is a true Tiger. This lad did not win the distinction of being a true fighting Tiger on the athletic field, but he has shown his stuff by entering Clemson from the ninth grade of high school and keeping a clean sheet all the way through his college career. No doubt everybody has heard that determination is the master key to success; well, here is a living proof of the statement.

"George" entered Clemson in the fall of 1922 with one thing in view and that was to get an education. By the end of his Sophomore year, he concluded that he was capable of carrying on two jobs at the same time. To our surprise, Guy chose as his hobby the difficult task of winning a girl's heart. From our point of view, we believe that success has come his way; and we are anxiously waiting and watching to see what he will undertake next.

In the fall of '22 "Mac" came to Clemson from the wilds of the surrounding territory from his home in Dillon, and here for the past four years has been engaged in the task of acquiring higher learning. Mac was endowed by nature with a sunny disposition, and this, in addition to his happy personality, has made a host of real friends among the fairer sex.

Throughout his college career Mac has allied himself with the best influences on the campus, and has been an active worker in the Y. M. C. A., in his church, and in the various societies of which he has been a member. So it is an enviable position which Mac holds with his fellow-classmen.

"Mac" left Gaffney in '22 to try his luck with the Clemson Tigers and he has been a success ever since then. He was handicapped when he joined us, but by perseverance and real work as only Mac knows how to accomplish, he has mastered every undertaking that he has attempted. Leslie's pleasant smile and friendly laugh win him admission everywhere.

This lad has been under the "Lord's" care, but in spite of this we feel confident that the only reason Mac does not do something big is because it has all been done.

The little city of Starr gave up a worthy son when "Mac" decided to enter Clemson in the fall of 1922. Since that time he has gained many good friends and proved himself to be an earnest worker. He has also done much for his fellow students.

Upon entering Clemson, he decided to take Agriculture as his life work. He was very successful as an "Ag," but soon found out that Civil Engineering was better suited for a man of his ability. Classwork comes first with him, but it is rumored that he always finds time to write to that fair maiden back home. Mac loves that "Fair One" like a baby loves milk.

This, dear reader, is Clarence McGill, better known as "Mac," of whom the class of '26 is justly proud. He hails from the Electric City and does not regret that fact.

"Mac" is known to be a friend by all who know him. He is a good enemy, a true sport, a true friend, and a hard fighter. With these qualities, one's opinion of him can be nothing less than superb. If friendship may be reckoned the masterpiece of nature, we certainly have such in Mac.

Clarence says that he belongs to her, but Clemson claims him after he has gone into wider fields.

Mac, your natural ability, combined with the inspiration of that little girl, is sure to place you on your feet.

"Mac," the brains of that group of students who are so frequently caught winking at the butt-end of a transit, was one of the smallest, but most spirited rats of '22. His home town, Blackville, has withstood his absence for four long years—how, I don't know, and I am sure he himself would not tell, since he is more concerned with the fair sex than he is with himself. Mac's small body holds a magnanimous heart and stands under a head which holds a brilliant mind, both of which working together, make him a southern gentleman.

His record as a student, his perserverance as a worker, his ability as a leader, and his determination to succeed predict for him a future which we must say is well deserved, and which cannot be too successful.

His ambitions are not few in number, but his present ambition is to become an agriculturist through the Animal Husbandry gate.

Nicknamed "Gila," for the dangerous gila monster, he is small in stature, possessed of a wonderful personality, courteous nature, friendly disposition, and of versatile ability—ever a winner of anything he undertakes. It has been his good fortune to win a host of friends who learned to know him only to love him. When cruel fate extracted its toll from the Class of '25, J. K. believing that a man should be true to his word and should take a firm stand in upholding his convictions, left college. Ere the Class of '26 was well on its last lap, he was a member.

Ben entered Clemson with one object in view, and that was to master Electricity, and for his past record he is admired by "Crip" as were Gandy and other brilliant members of the class of '06.

Ben has that determination, that fearlessness, that concentrated energy, and that power of directness of life that spells efficiency, power, and success.

Judson, commonly known as "Jud," came to Clemson with the determination to become an Electrical Engineer. However, after three years of exposure to the electrical phenomena of his chosen course and the mysteriously worded lectures of "Slim," Jud decided that the electrical genial could best be investigated by some other than himself and subsequently changed his course to Industrial Education.

We do not know just what this aggressive youngster's plans are for the future, but we believe that he intends to finish college, take his "dip" and himself to the lower part of the state, and offer them both to the discretion of "the only girl" upon the altar of love.

Judson is a friend to all who are worthy of friendship, a good sport, and a conscientious worker. May success and happiness attend all his efforts towards whatever goal he should aspire.

AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION

Special Student

"Napoleon," as he is sometimes called by his best friends, is a graduate of Furman University, having obtained his B.S. degree there in 1916. During his successful career there he made four block "F's" in baseball, each year making the All-State team. While there, he also made the varsity football squad.

During the World war, Mobley served in the army for his country, spending much time over-seas with the famous Thirtieth Division. He was wounded in action. After being discharged he worked for a time in a bank at Rock Hill.

Mobley decided that he wanted to learn something about scientific agriculture, so he came to Clemson in September of 1923. Through concentrated efforts he has been able to finish his course here in three years. His scholastic record is one of which he has reason to be proud.

Yes, he is a gentleman, a true friend, and a Tiger. He holds a place in the hearts of all those that know him. Never has he failed to accommodate a friend. His kindness and determination will attain success for him in whatever he undertakes.

Hark! "Red" heard the keen sound of a bugle. First call for his military career with an inspiring impulse. He then concentrated his attention upon the idea of becoming a Tiger and as a result cast his lot among the Palmetto Jungaleers. Red, being an ambitious lad, is bound to succeed, because his entrance to Clemson was his first step toward his goal, and each succeeding step has been an upward climb.

Red is a good-natured fellow, well met, and has a smile for all with whom he comes in contact. He is a true Tiger, always ready to perform his duties and to lend a helping hand toward the up-building of his Alma Mater.

Without a doubt Red realized the need of improved education in this state when he joined the Educational men—"a very select section." Loading his ship with knowledge, he will soon be ready to anchor in the harbor of life to import some of his gifts to the rising generation.

Now, Professor, may your tools of knowledge be a blessing to you and to your pupils. Success for you is our fondest wish.

Yes, "Frog" is a product of Central and she has reason to be proud of him. Frog has been prominent in his class because of his continual optimism and persistency in anything which he undertakes.

Everybody loves a fighter. Frog doesn't know what "quit" means; and he has been a valuable man in football and basketball. He is a fighting tackle in football and a fitting man to the captain of the '26 Basketball team.

Frog is very versatile and is "competition" for almost any team-mate. If he shows the same determination and desire to succeed after he leaves Clemson, we believe that great success awaits him only a short distance down the pathway of life.

"That's a man"—from St. Matthews—and don't forget it. Another fact to bear in mind is that St. Matthews is not swampy. Yes, "Nig" is a loyal South Carolinian and a dairyman combined.

This lad has survived four years at Clemson although both students and profs have long looked for him to expire from having to climb the hills of the Piedmont.

Show me a "bull session" and there I'll show you Nig, expert among the best. But Nig is not all "bull;" he believes in the future of dairying in South Carolina and when little Randolph enters Clemson, Nig will have become a power in the dairy business. Under all his "bull" and bluff, he is a pal, a friend, and a classmate never to be forgotten.

According to Nig, there are three things to beware of; a woman, a rattle snake, and a woman. Nevertheless, we feel sure that a certain little maid at Rock Hill will be able to change these revolutionary views.

Modesty is the cloak of wisdom. Lester is the living personification of this. He is a very modest and unpretentious person, always having the highest respect for the feelings of those whom he comes in contact with. A lover of good times, his pleasing and unassuming personality has brought him many friends who admire him for what he is, without any false glamor to dazzle the superficial eye. Light-hearted, full of life, he is never worried about the future. He is an optimist and when things look their darkest to him he always has a smile to drive away the accompanying gloom. If to do were as easy as to know what were good to do, Lester would be premier of the land. If ever in search of a true friend and a real sport, it is useless to search for a superior to Lester. Not being a weight artist or a strong-arm man, "Red" did not "cast his lot" when he arrived at Clemson, but instead settled down to a doubtful pursuit of an electrical engineering course. In classes he has prospered; but he has reaped his greatest harvests in other, more remunerative fields.

He was a stalwart figure on the gridiron in '25, and won fame for himself by driving through the fiercest defense. And similarly it will be in life—irresistably onward regardless of opposition or handicaps.

Then, too, Red is always cheery—a redeeming feature in some people's lives, but an asset to this youth. Never selfish, but always ready to sacrifice for a companion, he has won many friends. Life cannot help rewarding him in due measure.

This lad is none other than Major Pruitt of whom the class of '26 is very proud and rightly so. Major is liked by everyone that knows him and, needless to say, he is widely known at Clemson.

Before coming to Clemson, he attended B.M.I., for three years. He learned of the opportunities afforded at Clemson and decided to cast his lot with the Clemson Tigers.

The numerous electric lights on the streets of the Electric City caused him to desire to know and have some knowledge pertaining to the whyfores. After hearing the musical sounds made by the machines in the Textile Building as he passed it on the way down town, he changed his mind and is now the proud owner of a diploma in Textile Industrial Education. We predict for this aggressive young man nothing less than the presidency of a big textile concern. Here's to you, Major and may success be yours.

We are certain that the "sweet young thing" of Abbeville is proof against male attractiveness, otherwise Monk could not have been with us. On good authority, however, she awaits his return with outstretched arms.

His cheerfulness, his ability to make friends, his willingness to work, and his determination together make Monk. We cannot wish for him better than that his future holds for him the success which his characteristics predict.

In the early fall of 1922 "Rang," or Will, as he is known to his fellow Tigers, heard the Tiger's roar and taking up his musket, he started out to capture bigger game. He happened upon the Tiger's lair in the foot hills, and there instead of making a capture, he was captured himself.

For four years "Rang" has searched in every corner for material that will better equip him for putting the "Flatwoods" around Mullins on the Agricultural Map.

"Rang" is a great dreamer and an optimist. One of his greatest dreams is of a little nest somewhere in the east. He says that this would never be complete without a "Fair Bonnie Lass" to share in the realization of his dreams.

This great athlete hails from the "Capital City." Since coming to Clemson, he has made a great success as an athlete, and few can surpass his record. On the football field, he has attained fame as an end and as a tackle. On the basketball court he has shown the goods. His outstanding records are on the track where he won the 440 yard dash at the Southern Conference Meet in 1924.

He now holds the state record and the Clemson record for this event. This past year he was captain of the track team and has made a capable leader.

Not only is "Wally" a good athlete, but he is a good student. In fact there are few things that this big boy can't do—and do well. He is admired and respected by all his classmates as an athlete, a student, and a gentleman.

We have often wondered who will be the lucky lady who will share with Mack the success and happiness that the future holds for him.

Mack is made from a mixture of charm, originality, and neatness, plus sincerity. Such characteristics as these make up an all-round good fellow and one who is bound to succeed at the task he undertakes in life.

Bob is a big-hearted lad and has a great number of friends among the corps. Look into those eyes and you'll notice a far-away look in them. Possibly the cause of this is a little girl somewhere waiting for him.

Bob came here with the intention of taking Electrical Engineering, but after chasing volts and electrons around for three years, he decided to change to Mechanical and find out all about B. T. U.'s and Entropy.

We predict for this energetic Tiger a huge success and a career that is very seldom attained. Best of luck to you, Bob.

Wayland decided to launch his ship on the great ocean of life; realizing that he needed preparation, he set sail toward Clemson. He early found a liking for bugs, and hearing the call of nature, specialized in entomology.

In the class-room, on the campus, and in the various clubs, he is a true friend, a faithful student and a faithful worker. Words fail us when we think of this man's career; we cannot say what he intends to do with his wonderful talent.

His frequent visits to the various institutions of learning for women of this state—apparently on the Glee Club's business—bodes much evil for bachelorhood, and we predict the second period of life of man (according to Dr. Daniel).

Remember, Wayland, we hold you in our hearts as a true friend, and wish for you the best of everything.

Not a scholastic prodigy, not an athletic marvel, this boy possesses a quality that is beyond the grasp of either of the former two. He has an unseen radiation of personal magnetism that thrust him forward to leadership and makes him one of Clemson's most trusted students. He has won a place for himself in the respect and in the hearts of his comrades by his unflinching convictions of thought and action. Being musical, his life follows the path of a rhythmical, well-balanced, and appealing melody. An unflinching sense of duty and the ability to enjoy wise pleasure gather him numerous friends. "Lefty" is a by-product of nature and the Anderson High School. He is truly an unsophisticated complex, his countenance always being blessed by a hydra-like grin, reminding one of "Happy" Higgins, the Canadian officer whose coat-tail was completely annihilated by machine gun fire at the Battle of Ypres.

Lefty derives his cognomen from the fact that he is the sole possessor of a catapult-like arm especially constructed for heaving hods and chunking baseballs. He began his career in the spring of 1923 by out-chunking Carolina to the tune of 6 to 0, no-hit no-run game. Since that time he has pitched steadily for the Tiger nine.

Lefty is a hobbin dodger of the highest degree. Some predict that he will become a great inventor, as it is rumored that he is working on an automatic tooth pick for textile workers. He is seriously handicapped by having been a "first looie" his Senior year. However, most likely he will fade away into oblivion within the next few years.

Four years ago the population of Lancaster filed out to bid a fond farewell to a tall, lanky lad. This lad was none other than "Sid," as we call him, who was leaving for the Tiger Lair at Clemson. He came here with the sole desire to fit himself for the electrical world, and in response to his desire, immediately became one of the disciples of "Crip" and "Slim." He has created for himself a plane of prestige along these lines as well as along others. However, as time has passed, Sid's aspirations have shifted and now he plans to enter Uncle Sam's Army when he is finished. He has always been efficient in his military duties at school.

To know Sid is indeed a pleasure; he believes in a square deal for every man. Although he has the army for his goal, he never allows this to detract his attention from other vital considerations. From all indications he has found something at Winthrop that inspires him to always rush for the evening mail.

Here's luck to you, Sid.

AGRICULTURAL CHEMISTRY

Private; Private; Private; Second Lieutenant. Chemistry Science Club; Senior Dancing Club; Member '25 "Tiger" Staff; Sumter County Club; Junior-Senior Decoration Committee; R.O.T.C., Camp McClellan, Ala.

"Tommie," comes to us from the city whose very name holds a thrill for him, and whose social life stands idle with open arms to receive again its inspiring leader who cast his lot with us in '22. Henry won a scholarship in Agriculture, but since he did not wish to become a tiller of the soil, he soon decided to specialize in a line which he calls, and somewhat pompously, Agricultural Chemistry, but which we simply call "a line." Call it whatever you will, he does not mind, for he has very definite ideas and ideals for his future in life. What more could we wish for you, Tommie, than that your future be filled with the success of your ideas and ideals which is so well deserved by your manifested manliness.

HAROLD KLUGH TINSLEY

Hodges, S. C.

"An honest heart and true love is all that life has to offer."

AGRONOMY

Private; Private; Sergeant; Second Lieutenant. Member Ommitidae Society; Member Agricultural Society; Corresponding and Recording Secretaries Agricultural Society; Member Columbian Literary Society; Corresponding Secretary and Vice-President Columbian Literary Society; Secretary and Treasurer Greenwood County Club; Sharpshooter Machine Gun; R.O.T.C., Camp McClellan, Ala.

Harold, a boy of true worth and sterling character, whose words are bonds, whose oaths are oracles, whose love is sincere, and whose thoughts are immaculate, came to Clemson in the fall of '22 seeking a higher form of education.

You may know him by his neatness, his sincerity, his great amount of energy, his steadfastness, and his gentlemanly conduct. Harold looks upon life seriously enough to make the proper choice, and lightly enough to be happy. He is an ardent admirer of the fair sex, and while they all seem to fall for him, there seems to be one who reigns supreme over his heart.

With his superior mental ability, his stable character, his winning personality, and his high ambitions, Harold is sure to be a victor in life's battles. We predict for him a bright and prosperous future.

HORTICULTURE

Private; Corporal; Sergeant; First Lieutenant, Scrub Baseball; Horticultural Society; Secretary Agricultural Society; Calhoun Literary Society; Member Junior and Senior Dancing Clubs; R.O. T.C., Camp McClellan, Ala.; Member Allendale County Club.

"P. H." came to Clemson with the intention of taking "Bull," but realizing that he had failed to choose the best course, he changed to Horticulture. He is an excellent scholar, and we predict for him a great future as one of our leading horticulturists.

He is a sincere friend and with his charming personality and winning ways he has won for himself a wide scope of friends. Tison is the same friend today, tomorrow, and whenever you see him. He always wins a host of friends wherever he goes. He never says much about his experience with the fairer sex, but we predict that there is one waiting his return, when they will take the final step.

We are looking for great things from you, P. H. Life holds for you a great success and may the doors be opened to you.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERING

Private; Private; Private; Senior Private, Member Calhoun Literary Society; Member A.S.M.E.; Member Jail Birds Club; Member Anderson County Club; Member Clean Sleeve Club.

This young lad is Gus, another of those shining satellites of Starr. He came to Clemson in the Fall of '22, and after much thinking, finally cast his lot with the Mechanical Engineers. It is believed by all that this man will make a success because of the intense interest he shows in his work.

Gus has made many friends during his stay at Clemson. He is a true friend, a loyal Tiger, and is always willing to help anyone who may be in need. It matters not how hard the problem may be, he always has stuck to it until it was finished.

Luck to you, Gus. May your future be filled with joy and happiness.

ARCHITECTURE

Private; Private; Private; Senior Private. Member Architectural Society; Radio Club; Jail Birds Club; Sumter County Club; Sophomore Dancing Club; President and Vice-President Dramatic Club; Clean Sleeve Club; Member Beaux Arts Institute of Design; R.O.T.C., Camp McClellan, Ala.

Lee, a boy from the Gamecock City, came to us four years ago to gain knowledge in architecture. It seems as if he has gained it, for he has already snatched a prize from nearly six hundred architects, by means of a splendid drawing. Keep it up, old man, you're doing splendidly. He is planning a trip to France to study next year—whether his wife is going or not, we can't say—she had better. Oh yes, he is married—tough luck girls!

History repeats itself, therefore Michael Angelo and Betram Goodhue will have successors.

AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION

Private; Private; Private; Second Lieutenant. Calhoun Literary Society; Friendship Council; Bible Class Leader; R.O.T.C., Camp McClellan, Ala.

In the fall of '22, "Pop" migrated from the metropolis of Clifton and cast his lot at Clemson. He registered with the "Ags" and we now find him an outstanding member of the "Educations" and a devoted disciple of Tsukiyama. During his sojourn of four years, "Pop" has won a warm place in the hearts of his many friends. A loyal Tiger he is and when once known he is always liked because of his pleasing personality and sterling character. He is a hard worker and has accomplished great things in both the scholastic and social world, judging from the amount of his correspondence and his quaint expressions about love affairs, we believe that the near future must hold for him one joyous moment, when he shall confer the M. R. S. degree upon some fair damsel.

With those traits of promptness, kind heartedness, and sympathy, we predict for him a happy and prosperous future. Here's to you, "Dad," the best of luck always.

LLOYD GIGNILLIAT TRIMMIER

Spartanburg, S. C.

"God and the world loves a fighter—not the kind that will bravely lie down and die, but the kind that will fight like hell to live."

TEXTILE INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION

Private; Corporal; Sergeant; Captain. Spartanburg County Club; Textile Society; Jail Birds Club; Rifle Team; R.O.T.C., Camp Plattsburg Barracks, N. Y.; Pistol Marksman, Rifle and Automatic Rifle Sharpshooter; Second Corps Area R.O.T.C. Rifle Team, Camp Perry, Ohio, '25.

"Trim," the lad who hails from a well known city of South Carolina, arrived at Clemson with the determination to become a leader in the Textile Industry. Early in his career he departed from this idea and became a disciple of Mat Pearson. Trim has really accomplished wonders along this line, in that he is one of the best rifle marksmen in school. He had the honor of representing Clemson at Camp Perry, Ohio. This, is something to be proud of.

Trim had more than one thing in his cap when he went north in the summer of 1925. He claimed that he was going to Plattsburg, but the truth of the matter is that he went for the purpose of seeing a certain young lady in Brooklyn.

Now, Trim, as each of us depart to our many walks of life, you carry memories of each of your fellow class-mates, and the assurance that the stage will be set for you to enter a state of matrimonial bliss.

ENGINEERING INDUSTRIAL EDUCATION

Private; Private; Sergeant; Senior Private. Member Columbian Literary Society; Secretary and Treasurer Electric City Club, '25; Member A.S. M.E.; Member Anderson County Club; R.O.T.C., Camp McClellan, Ala.

"Ed." came to Clemson in the fall of '21 from the Electric City, and has since been busy in the acquirement of higher learning. After two years, however, he was forced to stop out and work a year before completing his college career. This did not deter him from his purpose, and the next year he came back to finish the work that he had started. This shows what kind of a man he has proved himself to be, for it takes a lot of "stick-ability" to do what he has done.

"Ed." is the kind of man that everyone is proud to know—honest, reliable, likeable, and in all things a real gentleman. These traits of character have made him well liked by all who know him, and we are proud of having known G. E.—a real man.

CIVIL ENGINEERING

Private; Private; First Sergeant; First Lieutenant. Block "C" Club; President Block "C" Club, '25; Athletic Council; President Barnwell County Club; A.S.C.E.; President A.S.C.E., '25; Vice-President First Sergeants Club; Sophomore Honor Council; Vice-President Sophomore Class; Jail Birds Club; R.O.T.C., Camp McClellan, Ala.

This "steel man" left Blackville in the fall of 1922 to journey to Tigertown. After arriving he donned a football uniform and started out to make his block "C." He showed up fine in 1923 and was a member of the South Carolina state Championship Team. He has been a very valuable member of the team, always showing the fighting spirit.

He chose the Civil Engineering course as his college work, and it is very likely that he will succeed in life, as he has here.

Winning the hearts of the ladies has been his side hobby, and from all appearances he has succeeded well.

He never meets a stranger nor feels lost at any time. He adapts himself to his surroundings and enjoys himself.

He is a jolly, friendly, and easy sort of fellow to get along with. The class of '26 sees no reason why he should not have much success in the future. Best wishes and good luck to you, Otty.

Batesburg-Leesville High School suffered a great loss in 1922 and Clemson made a great gain. John came to us with the determination to delve into the many mysteries of steam and Mechanical Engineering. He has worked persistently toward the attainment of the high ideal he has and has received the reward which we all covet. Work has not entirely taken up the time of John, for he has kept up a heavy correspondence with certain favored ones of the fairer sex. Which of them is the most successful we are not certain, but one will surely win soon.

John, we shall miss you greatly next year, but we can bear our loss by remembering that the world will be greatly bettered by you. Here's to you and hoping that you will be as successful in the future as you have in the past.

Cabinet Member; Vice-President Y.M.C.A., '26; Bible Class Leader; Member Friendship Council; Recording Secretary, Corresponding Secretary, Junior Literary Critic, President, Winner Declaimer's Medal, Calhoun Literary Society; Recording Secretary and Chaplain of Agricultural Society; Sumter County Club; Sharpshooter Machine Gun, R.O.T.C., Camp McClellan, Ala.

To be a friend of "Queen's" is indeed to be a fortunate person, for no truer friend could anyone have. His magnetic personality and his determination to stick to the elevating things of life, have made for him a record of which he may be justly proud. He is the kind of fellow who says little but thinks much.

Queen's interest in and loyal support of all Tiger Athletic teams has been outstanding in his career. His loyalty to them has been surpassed only by the loyalty which he has shown to his friends. He is also completely effused with an overwhelming interest in religious activities.

Your fellow-students wish for you future success and happiness and a long and pleasant life. Your pure as gold qualities of promptness, perseverance, and frankness never fail to win their way in the game of life.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING

Private; Corporal; Sergeant-Major; Major, President Georgetown County Club, '26; First Class Machine Gunner, R.O.T.C., Camp McClellan, Ala.

Unwavering adherence to high principles and altruistic tendency have won for "Whistleberry" a host of friends during his stay of four years in the army under the guidance of two strictly military leaders. Perhaps these two leaders gave him his military aspiration; perhaps he acquired them from some other source; but regardless of the source he is inclined to be soldierly, and as a result of his diligent labor, he has been awarded and now wears a diamond on his shoulder—a decoration that we all envy. Evidently this decoration attracts the fair sex of the neighboring towns, because J. E., has got the habit of heading for the mountains around Wall-halla every week-end. When he has persuaded some little girl to change her name to Westbury, we intend to borrow his diamond insignias and try our luck with the fair damsels.

"Doc" is a loyal Tiger, a good soldier, and a true friend. He hails from the "Power City." He has made a host of friends since coming to "Tigertown." Because of his big heart, his optimistic attitude, and his cheerful personality, he will be remembered long among his classmates.

Doc decided to cast his lot with the chemists, and for the past four years he has been chasing molecules all over the Chemistry Building. Being a capable student, he generally "shoots" the profs for a "row of test tubes."

All that we predict for you, Doc, is a bright future. May some fair damsel steer your ship of life into the port of happiness.

Luck to you, Doc—a real honest-to-goodness gentleman.

In "Jake" we have a man who does not aggressively push himself on anyone. He has always striven to bring honor to his Alma Mater, and to support anything that served to make the Class of '26 one of which we might be justly proud. He is a boy of sterling character, a friend on whom you may depend, and a gentleman in every sense of the word.

On entering Clemson, Jake cast his lot among the chasers of electrons. He has the distinction of never having infuriated "Crip's" "Giant."

Jake expects to sail the sea of electrical waves, and we predict a safe voyage for his ship "Success" with such a competent pilot at the helm.

On a bright September morning in the fall of '22, there was a braying of asses, lowing of cattle, yelping of dogs, and everything seemed gloomy and dismal in Shelton when "Lanky" boarded the train for Clemson. Lanky was tired of chasing boll weevils at home, so he decided to help "Crip" chase electrons, he became one of "Crip's" most able disciples.

Lanky is in every sense of the word a man. Only those who know him best can fully appreciate the character and manliness of this youth. He has acquired a host of friends because of his genteel manner, cheerful countenance, and a willingness to lend a helping hand.

Judging by his success during the four years at school, we feel safe in predicting that he will attain that success in life for which he is striving.

Otto entered Clemson as an artist, and departing leaves his mark indelibly engraved in the annals of musical accomplishment. He is possessed of a true artistic temperament which manifests itself in his precision and unflagging attention to details. Not only has Otto been a bolster in all of Clemson's musical organizations at one time or another, but he has delved fruitfully into our social life. Temperamental, precise, talented, and congenial, are four adjectives that aptly describe this engaging young violinist.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Just as July 4, 1776 will always be remembered as the date of birth of that great class of people—Americans, just so is September 6, 1922 important as the birthday of the Class of '26.

After having been gathered into the arms of dear old Clemson from all nooks and corners, we were promptly informed that each of our 350 members should and, no doubt, would have his turn at being at least a President of the country. Such statements had very little resistance in being readily absorbed by us, as the Sophomores had already removed the hair and it seemed that our "domes" furnished otherwise quite desirable conditions for the growth and development of anything—either notions or hair. With the thought of our abilities foremost in our minds we grimly set to work. Though the upper class men lowered our estimation of self somewhat, our aspirations were not dimmed. By sticking on doggedly we finally developed to that enviable stage of sophistication.

Our second year was little different from that of any other class. We believed in the old adage of "spare the broom and spoil the rat." Having the good of Clemson at heart, it was our sincere desire to straighten out these men; thus our drastic actions if "drastic" they may be called. But we found time for more than this one phase of Clemson life, for our class was well represented both on the athletic field and in other college activities. There were no especially bright stars at that time, but the class as a whole was above the average.

Running true to life, our Junior year found us developing into a more sober-minded group. We had passed the "wise-fool" stage and everyone seemed to realize that it was time for him to be thinking of the more important things of life. Though we began the scholastic year with about two-thirds our original number, our class was reduced to about one-half, because of a quite regrettable occurrence.

An even smaller group began the Senior year, but these entered with the resolve to make up with quality that which was lacking in quantity. Our actions during this time we shall always remember with pleasure. The management of the corps was turned almost entirely over to us and we began, what we sincerely hope will be a wonderful success, in the form of a Tiger clan. We expect the development of this organization to be of even greater importance than the adoption of the honor system or any other similar action of the past.

And now as we think of the time when we shall receive our much coveted "sheepskins", may we realize that we have received only the theory of life—the application of which rests solely in our hands. Indeed this will be a commencement day.

And now, dear reader if the notion strikes you that we have favored ourselves unduly in the analysis of our past, kindly take into consideration the fact that, though we realize our class is not the only one, it is to us the greatest class ever at Clemson.

Junior Class History

The curtain now falls at the end of the third act of our rehearsal of the play of life. Just one more act before the end of our college career. If we carry our parts out well, college life will then be a success to each individual of the class of "Jolly" Juniors. Through the many hardships we have plodded thus far, crushing the various obstacles in our path, and becoming better fitted each year to overcome the difficulties that may confront us in later years. Many have fallen from the ranks of the class of '27, leaving a relatively low percentage to fill the vacated files of the "class of dignity."

Our greatest achievement was the establishment of a foundation for student government. The class of '27, as Sophomores, made the first step towards planting the needed government by the students which will undoubtedly grow to be one of the milestones on the road to a greater Clemson. The success of this movement will mean more marked class recognition than now exists. May we all live to see the success of the seed we have just sown.

In student activities our class has been well represented. While we have not been so well represented in football, our standing in other fields of athletics have more than made up for this deficit. The Juniors rank among the best in baseball, track, tennis, and cross-country. Our place in literary societies is unquestionable. Members of the Junior class always serve as the center of action in literary work.

The many hardships in the past three years have only served to strengthen our determination to fill the last year with higher and greater achievements. Endowed with the undying "Tiger Spirit", we stand with three years of success to look back upon, and ready to begin our last year of college life with a determination that is sure to result in success.

Sophomore Class History

On September 8, 1925, about three hundred of the '23-'24 Freshman class, now proud Sophomores, arrived at Clemson. We thought, after completing the "rat class" with its many interruptions, such as answering "rat-newboy" calls, our sailing for the next year would be comparatively easy. We soon realized, however, that we were sadly mistaken, for we learned that Sopohomore means suffermore.

We soon became the target of demerits handed out so generously by Colonel Douglass and the Napoleonic Major Westbury. Although we considered ourselves the most chicken-hearted bunch of Sophomores that ever represented the second year class at Clemson, the Freshmen mingled with us only when it was absolutely necessary.

We found our lessons extremely difficult this year, and those who mount the Junior Ship next fall will be the survival of the fittest.

It is with much pride that we boast of having several men on the Tiger Eleven. It is quite a feat for a Sophomore to make a letter in any branch of athletics, especially football, and although the Tigers lost quite a few games this year, these boys did their best and we are expecting great things of them next fall.

Last year we were Freshmen. This year we are Sophomores. Next year, by the grace of the professors and some hard work, we hope to be Juniors.

Freshman Class History

On the first day of September there assembled on the historic and inspiring campus four hundred and one strange faeces. Four hundred were to be the members of the Freshman class and one to be the new President. Each and everyone was a true Tiger, waiting to be tried. The example our President has set has been an inspiration to us and we shall strive to bear our responsibility as he has borne his.

We adopted the Honor system as one of the traditions of the college, and may we live up to it in the future as in the past. We, the largest class in the history of the college, elected the following officers: Pearman, President; Marshall, Vice-President; Moorer, Secretary and Treasurer; and Eunas, Historian.

To write a history of this class and not to mention the Freshman football team would be an injustice. Every member of the team covered himself with glory and no truer bunch of "Tiger Whelps" ever wore a Clemson uniform.

In closing let us not forget those of us who may some day achieve greatness. That there may be some day many of these to bring glory to their Class and their Alma Mater, is our sincere wish.

Knowing that they shall never forget where their greatness came from—the association of fellow classmates. We, the members of this class, wish to each other our love and may God speed them on their way to their life's goal.

J. E. EVANS, Historian Freshman Class.

Varsity Football Squad

G. I. FINKLEA (Captain)—Tackle. 176 POUNDS
Freshman Football '22; Varsity Football '23, '24, '25.

Captain Gary Finklea has been, in his football experience at Clemson, an All-State end of unexcelled ability, a tackle of much power and the leader of a fighting team. In 1924, "Fink" was the outstanding end of South Carolina football, and it was only natural that he should be chosen Captain of the 1925 eleven.

H. J. BOWLES—Center. 175 POUNDS
Freshman Football '22; Varsity Football '23, '24, '25.

Julian Bowles is the man who was the bulwark in the middle of the Tiger line. He was undoubtedly one of the strongest linesmen of South Carolina football during the season. He was the only man on the Clemson team to receive an all-state vote.

W. R. ROY—Tackle. 184 POUNDS
Varsity Football '23, '24, '25

Wallace Roy, one hundred and eighty four pounds of pure man, has proven to be a star in every form of athletics in which he has participated. It has always been taken for granted that he would uphold his part of the line, and he has done it. Wallace plays equally well tackle, halfback or end.

J. K. HANE—Guard. 185 POUNDS

"Kit," started his football career as a lowly rat. His Junior year he was promoted to the varsity line. Not a flashy player, but a consistent one, true sportsman, a determined player, a worthy Tiger, an asset to any school or team.

J. E. WALKER—Fullback. 175 POUNDS
Freshman Football '22; Varsity Football '23, '24, '25.

"Otey," began hitting the line back in his Sophomore year and has never forgotten how. If its the third down and three or four years to go, "Otey" is the man to carry the ball for a first down. Does he fail? You can count the times on your fingers.

E. D. PALMER—Tackle. 186 POUNDS

Having played Freshman and scrub football in '22 and '23 respectively, Frog's ability was recognized in '24 since that time he has invariably been on the field. Frog was one of the old timers—a sixty minute man of Dutch Tennant's class of fighting men.

J. A. FEWELL—End. 165 POUNDS

Freshman Football '22; Varsity Football '23, '24, 25.

The sight of Jack, making one of his catapulting tackles, is enough to gladden the heart of any lover of good fighting and true sportsmanship. Jack played the game with his whole soul and body. His like will never be seen again.

B. H. CUTTINO—End. 140 POUNDS

Freshman Football '24; Varsity Football '25.

"Little Man" has, in his first year of varsity ball, sprung into prominence as an end. On offence he gets his man, gets up and gets another. And on defence he is in every tackle make on his side of the line. When Cut'no adds two more years of work to the start he has made, he should make the world sit up.

J. Q. WRAY—End. 158 POUNDS

Freshman Football '22; Varsity Football '23, '24, 25.

Jake Wray, the very incarnation of the fighting spirit, has given to the limit of his power and resources, for Clemson. Jake's idea of happiness has been to be on the field, fighting with the last ounce of his strength for his Alma Mater. This year he leaves a place on the squad that will be hard to fill.

H. L. ESKEW—Halfback. 165 POUNDS

Freshman Football '24; Varsity Football '25.

Bud came to Clemson with high recommendations and in his first year varsity ball has justified the most extravagant predictions as to his ability. Bud is a backfield man of brightest promise, fast and elusive. The remaining two years before him are bright indeed.

W. W. KLUGH. 140 POUNDS

"Woots" has made an enviable athletic record since he entered Clemson, taking a prominent part in three sports. He leaves us this year and it will be hard to find his equal for speed, perseverance and general ability.

J. M. FLEMING—Guard. 200 POUNDS

Freshman Football '22; Varsity Football '23, '24, '25.

Here's a football player, every ounce of his 200 pounds is nothing else but just that. Mammoth seemed to be at his best when defending Clemson's goal line. We will remember him as a real man who always fought his level best.

R. E. McCONNELL—Fullback. 165 POUNDS

Freshman Football '24; Varsity Football '25.

"Mack"—the hard hitting fullback of the Tigers—this the general idea that every one has who had the opportunity of seeing him in action. This was Mack's first year of varsity football. Next year he will be on Rigg's Field when the first signal is called.

P. B. AUSTIN—Guard. 175 POUNDS

Paul made up his mind back in 1923 that he would play varsity football for Clemson some day. This year he has realized that ambition, having played his full share of the season's game. We expect much from this husky lad next season.

C. M. REYNOLDS—Halfback. 165 POUNDS

Freshman Football '23; Scrub Football '24; Varsity Football '25.

"Pete's greatest asset is his defensive ability. This is only natural because up until this year he had played tackle and end. With the back field experience gained during the past season he should make a good showing next fall.

B. C. HARVEY (Capt.-Elect)—Guard. 198 POUNDS

Freshman Football '24; Varsity Football '25.

The opponents ball on our own five yard line—four pile—driving line bucks and the ball fails to move—Chub Harvey was under every play and they had to stop. Great things are expected from this Husky in the next two seasons.

M. H. HENDÉE—Quarterback. 134 POUNDS

"Tick" began his football career at Clemson as an outstanding man on the Freshman squad in '23. He handled the team at the quarter position this year like a veteran. Tick is a good runner, hard fighter and level headed field general. His next year of football should show some wonderful results.

W. M. MARTIN—Halfback. 165 POUNDS

Freshman Football '24; Varsity Football '25.

As a Football player Walt has a rangy style of running that is deceptive in that it seems slow nevertheless it nets him good yardage. A punter, passer, end runner of stellar ability, he has proven a valuable man to the team of '25.

Red has played a consistently good brand of football during his four years at Clemson, rising by steady even steps through the ranks of the Rats and Scrubs and finally landing a berth on the Varsity squad. Red has proven a very valuable man in this, his last year on the varsity squad.

C. A. MCGILL—Halfback. 170 POUNDS

Scrub Football '24; Varsity Football '25.

As a scrub in '24 "Big Mac" showed the unquenchable spirit and zeal for the game. This laid the foundation for his excellent work this year. Mac's place on the squad came as a reward for the hard work and determined attitude shown on Big Ben's squad.

T. L. BRADLEY—Halfback. 160 POUNDS

Prep is just one hundred and sixty pounds of man. He has been running the pigskin ever since he has been at Clemson. Prep has a style of football all his own, is a hard worker, and deserves to wear the coveted "Block C."

Rattie laid a good foundation on which to build himself a name when he played with the Rats in '24. A husky fellow, he has every qualification of a good player. With the experience gained this season he should be well prepared to do things next year.

"War Horse" came to Clemson in the fall of '24. He had never played football before he pulled on the harness with the Rats in '24. Since that time he has developed into a driving full-back and promises to make somebody work for a position the next two years.

F. B. LEITZSEY—Center. 160 POUNDS

Fred Leitzsey, a battered veteran of the grid-iron, stuck to the old game until permanent injuries removed him from the squad just a few days before the end of his last season. Fred is one of the old heads on football and what he doesn't know about the game is just as well forgotten.

J. C. HAIR—Center. 170 POUNDS

Rabbit received his first football knowledge in Blackville. Under Coach "Culs" tutelage, Rabbit showed up well. By his hard work and ability to back up the line Rabbit landed a position on the varsity squad his sophomore year, which speaks well for his prospects for the next two years.

R. H. TUTTLE—Tackle. 133 POUNDS

Freshman Football '24; Varsity Football '25.

Tut. made a name for himself in Freshman football last year. During the past season, Tut was ever faithful showing repeatedly that his make-up contained that dogged tenacity and never-say-die spirit, which has been the making of so many great football men.

M. H. JONES—Quarterback. 163 POUNDS

Freshman Football '24; Varsity Football '25.

"Ickie" is a good man on any one of three positions, quarterback, halfback or end. With this year's coaching and the experience he has received in several games this year, he will give some one a good race for a place on the first eleven next season. "Ickie" Jones

A. C. LINK—Quarterback. 140 POUNDS

After a successful year as field general for the Rats of 1924, Mike enlarged on his experience and judgment with the varsity eleven. Mike uses his head, and has shown the wisdom of his judgment in his handling of the team.

Monk has proved himself true to all expectations. Not only did he win his place on the "Rat" team, but also earned a berth on the varsity of '25. Monk is a speedy man, especially built for end runs and broken field running. Much is expected of this young lad.

E. R. COX—End. 160 POUNDS

Varsity Football '25.

Rusty has finished his first year of football at Clemson, making the squad in his first season. On fourth down with eight to go Rusty could always be depended upon to punt half the length of the field. With two more years before him, Rusty has good possibilities.

BASEBALL OFFICERS AND SPONSOR

T. J. BETHEA—First Base

Freshman Baseball '24; Varsity Baseball '25

In his two seasons of baseball at Clemson, Bethea has proven himself to be a consistently good first baseman. Being possessed of a cool head and quick arm, he is well fitted for the position he plays.

L. H. MELTON—Outfield

Varsity Baseball '24 and '25

Doc Melton paused in his scuffling long enough to play two seasons of baseball. Doc has played in almost every part of the diamond. He finally settled in left field, however, and here and at the bat he could always be relied upon to execute well his part of the game.

R. C. JONES—Outfield

Varsity Baseball '25

Jones, playing his first year on the Varsity, displayed his ability at swinging a bat as well as catching flies in the out-field. Much is expected of this man in his next two seasons.

S. E. HARMON—Captain, 1925

Outfield and Pitcher

Varsity Baseball '23, '24, '25

Pat Harmon played equally well in the out-field and the pitcher's box. A consistently good out-fielder, a base runner of unusual speed and judgment, a hard slugger at the bat and born leader of men, Harmon was indeed a valuable man to the team of 1926.

J. L. HERRON—Second Base

Freshman Baseball '24; Varsity Baseball '25

"Runt" Herron displays the family characteristic in his love for and ability to play baseball. Having already made a good beginning, Runt will undoubtedly make people sit up and take notice in the coming seasons.

L. J. SALLEY—Third Base

Freshman Baseball '24; Varsity Baseball '25

Luke made a name for himself when, in the Tennessee game last season, in the 13th inning, with the score tied, he brought Runt Herron in from second and with that hit won the most exciting game of the season.

C. A. MCGILL—Captain-Elect, '26
Catcher

Freshman Baseball '23; Varsity Baseball '24, '25

"Big Mac," a veteran of the diamond, born to the game, has the same relation to baseball that a duck has to water. Mac has, in past seasons, proven his ability as a catcher, and it was only logical that he should be chosen captain of the 1926 team. We predict great success for him.

H. R. WOODSIDE—Pitcher
Varsity Baseball '24, '25

Harry Woodside displayed decided talent in the pitcher's box, delivering his ball with an ease and grace that would do credit to a Cicotte or Johnson, "Woody" will be missed when the line up is picked this year.

G. E. PRICE—Shortstop
Varsity Baseball '24, '25

Papa George, a steady, hardworking and valuable man on the team will be missed when the first call for practice is made this spring. George played his part of the diamond well, no matter what happened in the other parts. We will feel his loss distinctly.

W. T. MARTIN—Pitcher
Varsity Baseball '25

Martin is one of those men who does his best all the time, says no more than he has to and, in victory or defeat, is always the same. He will play an important role in the 1926 team, and much will depend on his work.

J. A. MILLING—Outfield
Freshman Baseball '24; Varsity Baseball '25

Shine, having already shown his ability in one season with the Rat Team and one with the Varsity, displaying good judgment for baseball sense in every game, is one of the best prospects for the next two seasons.

G. A. SMITH—Pitcher

Freshman Baseball '23; Varsity Baseball '24, '25

When Lefty Smith once hits his stride in a baseball game it's usually three up and three down until the end of the game. Lefty is one of the mainstays around which this season's team will be built.

Guard

Freshman Basketball '23; Varsity Basketball '25, '26

When the game grows roughest and fastest and the referee fails to see all he should, "Frog" is at his best. As a leader for the team "Frog's" superior could not have been found.

W. R. ROY—Center

Freshman Basketball '23; Varsity Basketball '24, '25, '26

Roy the stalwart center, has earned the reputation of making himself the dread of all opponents. He has played stellar ball this season, as he has in the three preceding seasons. He is the deadly nemesis of any player who dares to share the center circle with him.

H. L. ESKEW—Guard

Freshman Basketball '25; Varsity Basketball '26

Bud, playing for the first year on the Varsity quintet, has made an unusually good record. He plays the game with every ounce of strength in his powerful frame, and this combined with his trained eye and cool thinking, has brought him the laurels he now holds.

C. C. NEWMAN—Forward

Varsity Basketball '25, '26

Accuracy, speed, and endurance are the words that best describe the ability of Newman. For two consecutive years he has been a mainstay on the Tiger team. Carter's abundance of speed has proved quite an asset to him and his long and precise goal shooting has always helped.

M. H. HENDEE—Forward

Freshman Basketball '24; Varsity Basketball '26

The sidelines have often wondered how "Tick" manages to be everywhere on the court at once. He is decidedly one of the fastest men on the squad and one of the hardest fighters. What "Tick" lacks in size, he more than makes up for in speed and accuracy.

J. L. BROCK—Forward

Freshman Basketball '25; Varsity Basketball '26

Brock has developed into a fast and elusive forward and is to be depended upon for a substantial part of the score in every game. His accurate shots, done at top speed, are often the wonder of the spectators. Brock has been quite indispensable to the team this year.

J. T. MUNDY—Forward

Freshman Basketball '25; Varsity Basketball '26

Mundy began his career as a Tiger basketballer his Freshman year and since that time he has more than lived up to the name he has made. He can always be depended upon when the ball is in his hands.

H. M. ALLISON—Forward

Freshman Basketball '25; Varsity Basketball '26

"Shimmy" plays a flashy game of ball. Darting here and there, he is always in the thickest part of the game. Once disengaged, he eludes his opponents by his shifty footwork. From the time he enters he fights a hard game and well deserves the reputation he holds.

T. F. MCGLONE—Guard and Center

Freshman Basketball '25; Varsity Basketball '26

Tom never gets in a hurry except when he goes on the basketball court. But when he is on the court the witnesses often wonder if this is the same Tom that moves so deliberately around barracks. Tall, muscular, and fast, his presence is keenly felt by his opponents.

W. N. MARTIN—Guard

Freshman Basketball '25; Varsity Basketball '26

When Walt is in the game we do not worry about his end of it. Every minute of play means sixty seconds of hard fighting for him. Walt has a promising future ahead of him in basketball and his success is assured.

Retrospection

A review of athletics for the year 1925-26 does not show the unbroken succession of games won that we had hoped for. This record will not show how the individual player slaved with the last ounce of his strength to swing the victory to the side of his Alma Mater, nor will it give evidence of the bitter anguish which followed defeat.

But long after the scores have been forgotten and time has smoothed off the rough edges of recollection, there will still remain with those who played the game and those who so anxiously watched from the sidelines, the memory of the old fight, the never-say-die spirit, the sixty-minute-per-hour scrap, and the imperishable friendships made during this time.

So let's remember the teams of 1925-26 as true Tigers, playing under conditions that were not the best, rejoicing mightily in victory and unbeaten in defeat.

Y. M. C. A.

Few of us stop to think what part the Young Men's Christian Association plays in our college life, and what a memorial chapter it leaves imprinted on the life of so many men. It tries to promote all of those things which make for the betterment of character and morals among the students as well as promote physical training and wholesome recreation.

The moral development is encouraged by Bible Classes, Morning Watch Groups, and by the work of the Friendship Council, which organization is most helpful to the new students during the first week. Then, too, Vesper service is held each Sunday night. Some of the lectures delivered at Vesper service are rarely excelled.

The social and entertainment phase of the Y. M. C. A., while perhaps of less importance than spiritual development, is even more outstanding in its scope, for here every boy comes for some form of recreation or entertainment. The swimming pool is open the entire year. The bowling alleys, pool tables, ping pong tables, and checker and crokernole tables are always open to every one as is the basketball court, which is used by the high school team, visiting teams, cadets and the Freshman squad. The picture shows are shown almost daily—each picture being shown two days. And the reading and writing room is always open.

Each class is given one or more receptions each year. Junior-Senior reception is given for those who do not dance. All athletic teams that visit at the campus are kept at the Y. M. C. A. Faculty and American Legion receptions are also held. Ladies Rest Room is maintained for visiting ladies and parents. Free shows are given from time to time for the entire student body, and benefit pictures are given for various groups.

The Young Men's Christian Association endeavors to serve each man personally and to become a vital factor in every student's life. If we have failed in this attempt, if we have not made Clemson a better place in which to live, and if we have not created a more Christian-like environment, we have not attained our aim. If we have failed in our purpose, we have done so because of the magnitude of the task. In our attempt to serve others we have been benefitted more than any other.

(Signed)

E. H. JORDAN,

*W*E HAVE furnished a complete service to the management of "T A P S" 1926. All extra art work, the engraving, printing, and the binding of this book were done in our plant—all under one roof and under the supervision of annual men of experience.

We are prepared to furnish a complete line of stock inserts, borders, panels, instruction books and many other necessities to an annual staff.

We sincerely hope that the management of "TAPS" is satisfied with the product of our efforts and that the incoming staff will confer with us before committing themselves on next year's contracts. Don't fail to let us know when you can see our representative.
